

The more geodesics sets of points the closer to the continuous orthogonal trajectory

The points are spaced an equal distance